

Safe... CaRING... LEARNING...

February 26th, 2025

Hey DES families,

What a February... so cold for 3 weeks then melting away in 24 hours. Usually I love February but right now if I were to see a ground hog right now, my inner Carl Spackler may come out (Caddyshack reference, totally dating myself).

I have tried my best to use this message to bridge the gap between school and community. To put some perspective in both our staff and families. My thinking is the only way we can work together is if we understand each other and we lead with love in our hearts. (It is February... I had to get it in)

I am fortunate enough to work in the school system that my own children go to school in. In the position that I have, I have this privilege.

This week, as a family we had a scary situation with one of our kids. All is good, she is well and we move forward. As we were figuring out how this works for our daughter in school, for me it was a phone call to the Amazing Teresa, an email to a Principal I have worked with and forms that I have filled out before.

This isn't the only time this has benefited me. Every Parent Teacher conference, I walk in knowing assessment practices, My Prairie Spirit Classroom and how to use Edsby... sort of.

When I had to talk to teachers about behaviours, we understand the current policies of the school and division. As we transferred schools, I know what forms we needed and who to talk to. I'm not abusing my position, but like a contractor who is building their house, I know where to go.

I understand that this is a privilege of mine, so here is what I promise all of you...

I promise you our staff puts students first, we love your children and want what is best for them. We will listen and find ways to work together. I am here, we are here, and we will do our best to help get you and your child on a path for the best education we can provide.

I promise that I will use what I know to help you to make sure that when things are hard we will do our best to be here and can provide direction. There is never any judgment but I will support you the best I can within the policies of the school and the division. My door is always open and my office is always safe, except when I'm teaching PE, then you're taking your life into your hands.

Here's to a quick melt and an amazing spring season!
