As the weather warms up and things get muddy and wet out, please ensure your child has:

Please ensure they have these items at school each day, in case they're needed.

Mortified finds the heart of a middle grade reader with an entertaining and pitch-perfect story, beautifully illustrated by Rhael McGregor, brought to an expansive finish with style and grace. I loved it!"—Alice Kuipers, award-winning children's author

Ages: 8 – 12

Author Location: Corman Park, SK 🍁

For fans of Remarkably Ruby and Diary of a Wimpy Kid, comedy and cringe come together in this sweet novel about facing your fears.

When someone secretly signs up Belinda Houle, the school's shyest kid, to audition for a play, Belinda turns to her best friend, Sally, for help. Unlike Belinda, Sally isn't embarrassed by anything. Also, Sally thinks she's a witch.

Belinda doesn't believe in magic, but if Sally has a spell for confidence—well, it couldn't hurt to try it. Could it?

What follows the spell is a series of tragedies so tragic they would have been funny—if only they weren't happening to Belinda! First, Belinda's ex-best friend tricks her into eating dog food. Next, she's forced to wear a wig when her hair-straightening session goes very wrong. Things get worse and worse, until Belinda must face the facts: One piece of bad luck can be explained away, but this? This is a straight-up curse!

Can she break the curse before the dreamy Ricky Daniels takes more notice of her crooked wig? More importantly, how can Belinda battle the very thing she hoped the spell would take away: her embarrassment?

Author Bio: Kristy Jackson is a communications professional and the mother of two boys. Her work draws inspiration from her Cree and German background and a long list of embarrassing moments of her own. Her short fiction has been published by CommuterLit, Kids Short Stories and Quick Brown Fox. Kristy Jackson runs a program that delivers books to children in seven remote Indigenous communities in Canada. She also volunteers for a non-profit dedicated to improving literacy in her community. Mortified is her debut novel.

MORE ADVANCE PRAISE FOR MORTIFIED

*"This book is a delight and will have kids cringing, laughing and relating in equal parts! Hilarious and heart-warming, I couldn't put this down. Belinda's hilarious adventures will have young kids squealing with joy and laughter. Two thumbs up!"—Salma Hussain, author of *The Secret Diary of Mona Hasan
